

ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW!

Welcome

Whether you're a large charity or volunteer involving organisation or a small community group, you can join in the new Get Involved Festival of Volunteering 2026. There are no rules - just a chance to celebrate, thank your volunteers, and join with other organisations to invite new people to get involved. Here's everything you need to get started.

1. What's it all about?

- A month-long celebration of volunteering across Norfolk and Waveney.
 - Say thank you to your volunteers, share their stories, and inspire new people to join in. Be part of a countywide event to shout about volunteering.
 - Take part in any way that works for you, big or small!

2. How to take part (Step-by-Step)

- Step 1: Pick your activity
Choose one, or more, of the easy ideas below, or invent your own.
- Step 2: Post your event on Get Involved Norfolk using the Festival of Volunteering logo we've created. (details below, point 5)
If you are planning a public event to attract new volunteers or to let people know what you do create a Community Event on Get Involved Norfolk and we will feature it on a new page on Get Involved Norfolk and help you promote it as part of the Festival of Volunteering,
- Step 3: Celebrate and share
Let local people know about your event through posters, flyers, word of mouth and social media. Enjoy your event, take photos, and share your stories - tag us so we can celebrate with you!

- Need help or inspiration?

If the ideas below don't appeal, then come along to our online drop-in session on Wednesday 18 March from 2.30 - 3.30 – register here for Eventbrite Drop-in session. Or drop us a line at volunteercentre@voluntarynorfolk.org.uk.

3. Easy ideas for any organisation

Thank and celebrate

- Host a tea, coffee morning, or picnic for your volunteers.
- Create a “Wall of Thanks” with messages from staff, service users, or the public.
- Give out homemade certificates or badges. We can offer attractive Get Involved Festival of Volunteering certificates for you to personalise.

Open your doors

- Run a drop-in session or open day to show people what you do.
- Invite volunteers to bring a friend for a taster session.

Share stories

- Post a volunteer's story or photo on your website or social media.
- Collect “Why I volunteer” quotes and display them in your office or online.

Try something new

- Offer a short, one-off volunteering task (e.g., help at an event, tidy a garden, pack food parcels).
- Run a skills swap and invite volunteers to share a hobby or talent.

Make it accessible

- Offer a “quiet hour” for people who prefer a calmer environment.
- Provide Easy Read information and use big, clear signs.

Go digital

- Host a virtual thank-you event or share a video message.
 - Invite people to try “armchair volunteering” (e.g., phone calls, online tasks).

4. Top tips for small teams

- Decide whether your focus is on thanking existing volunteers or attracting new ones.

- Ask your volunteers for their ideas to help shape appealing activities.
 - Keep it simple and use what you already have (a regular meeting, a newsletter, a WhatsApp group).

5. How to register your event/volunteering day.

We've decided the best way to make activities most visible is to create a new page and to showcase the opportunities and events on a map on the new page.

- Add your event by selecting + Add in the main picture (or from opportunities on the left) from the drop-down menu then select +Add Community event
- You will need to add Festival of Volunteering in the title of the event or activity and include where it will take place. In the red box write a summary (no more than 160 characters) and click on + Add a detailed description *in red – include times, the type of activities on offer, why people should come, refreshments or other inducements. Scroll down to add a cover image – upload an attractive landscape format photo or graphic image, using the Festival frame if you choose – and complete the other questions (tick RSVP for events).
- See video guidance here for further support

All events and activities will be fed on to the Festival of Volunteering page providing you have mentioned Festival of Volunteering in the title.
